Juniper's COZY CORNER

FROM JUNIPER'S DESK

Happy Holidays, dear cozy readers! As the year winds down, I'm sending you the warmest winter wishes, no matter where you're reading this from! Cozy isn't just a weather report—it's a state of mind, found in flickering candles, hot drinks, and the magic of a good book. Wishing you a season filled with warmth, peace, and endless cozy vibes! Grab a warm mug, wrap yourself in your favorite blanket, and happy reading!

THE WRITER'S NOTEBOOK

Exciting secrets are brewing at my desk this season! I've officially embarked on a brand-new adventure: writing a cozy mystery for children, inspired by the bright imagination of my great-niece. Stirring up mysteries for younger readers has been pure magic, but I'm not stopping there. I'm also plotting some ambitious cross-genre crossovers that blend traditional cozy comfort with thrilling new twists. I can't wait to share these new worlds with you—the game is officially afoot!

CLUES & SNEAKPEEKS

Something brand new is coming! Book 1 of The Cookie Crumb Chronicles: Static in the Sweet Shop. Clue: Cozy sugar-crusted treats meet a mysterious sci-fi twist. 🛸✨
